Description of Training Program:

Our program prepares students to be responsible for prompt and safe care of patients, whether inpatient or outpatient. Students are taught basic skills in patient care with an added skill in phlebotomy and EKG. They are taught the importance of infection control and how to effectively deliver care. The program is 150 contact hours over 6 weeks. We combine students' learning experience with hands-on training via onsite lab and clinical experience. Because we are partnered with the National Healthcareer Association, we gear our didactics following their criteria to prepare students to pass their certification.
